ADULT BIBLE STUDY

From the Worship Committee

“Sipping Coffee at 5:30 A.M.”

“I will awaken the dawn. I will praise you, O Lord.”
Ps.57:8-9

It is very early in the morning. I open the door even though the pre-dawn air is quite cool. As I sit sipping my first cup of coffee, I gaze out across the yard. The sky is clear, but the trees, grass and flowers are dark silhouettes. The only movement is three Blue Jays quietly—amazing for Blue Jays to be quiet—looking for some sunflower seeds on our feeding stump. The words of Psalm 46: 10, “Be still and know that I am God...” drift through my thoughts. But the world is not static, and the dark silhouettes of trees, grass and flowers turn gradually to their natural colors. The green of the lawn shimmers with dew. Soon the dark shadows on the Norway spruce turn golden. As it always does this time of year, the morning sun of late summer is doing its thing: turning this quiet hour into a golden hour. Psalm 139: 14 describes it perfectly: “Your works are wonderful, I know that full well.” But the quiet time and golden world slip quickly by. I am now hearing traffic; the quiet Blue Jays decide to squawk; and the world is now in full light. Perhaps a second cup of coffee is in order. However, that second cup never matches the pleasure and peace of that very first cup in early morning when the world awakens and I awaken with it.

*Prayer: “When morning gilds the skies, my heart awakening cries: May Jesus Christ be praised! Alike at work and prayer to Jesus I repair: May Jesus Christ be praised! Let earth’s wide circle round in joyful notes resound: May Jesus Christ be praised! Let air and sea and sky from depth to height reply: May Jesus Christ be praised!” Amen

*(Prayer: verses 1 &3, “When Morning Gilds the Skies”, Presbyterian Hymnal, p.487)

May peace and beauty surround you this day and always, ON behalf of the Worship Committee,
Maxine G. Hunter

Adult Bible Study resumes Sunday, September 20, when youngsters are starting as well. All are welcome. We meet in the church library at 9:30 a.m. We are using a book entitled "Get Acquainted With Your Bible." Although it is out of print, we can get you a copy - paper-back or photocopied. It is an overview of our Bible - explaining its organization and including history of the region and people of the Bible. We will resume with Chapter 5 which starts the New Testament. Nancy Douglas will lead this lesson, but we usually take turns, breaking a chapter into two parts. It's a good time to join us for the first time!

If you have questions or want to get a copy of the book, contact Nancy at 684-3845, or email douglasn@twcny.rr.com

“Minister walks into a bar: Not a joke, but a new kind of faith outreach in Syracuse”

This was the title of an article in the Post Standard on August 23, 2015. In order to reach out to people in a new and different way, local religious denominations have launched a project called , God@TheBar.

Ministers are planning to lead conversations at local watering holes—at the bar, or at least in an adjoining room. Beer and appetizers will be served. God, faith, and spirituality will be the focus.

Pastor Bob Langston of the Onondaga Hill Presbyterian Church got this idea while visiting in St. Paul, MN where he saw a sign for a series called “Theology on Tap” in a Catholic cathedral. The Syracuse diocese has a similar program aimed at young people and have their meetings at Dinosaur Bar-B-Que. This inspired Rev. Langston to consult with other local Christian ministers and the project was developed.

For more information the newspaper article is posted in Fellowship Hall. It includes dates, times, locations, and leadership for those who are interested.

From Presbyterian Women

The following were in attendance at our August 13 PW Ministry Meeting held at the church library: Naydene Ames, Katie Bracy, Ellen Davis, Maxine Hunter and Karen Jacobs. Following are events that were discussed which we wish to share with our church family.

MCC Presbyterian Women's Retreat:

We confirmed the date of Saturday, September 19 for our Women's Retreat and are pleased that Gail Banks has accepted our invitation to lead the retreat. This year's theme title is Experiencing God's Presence: finding God with us in our daily travels - "God in our Daily Rounds." The retreat will be held at the church in Fellowship Hall from 9 to 2 p.m. Registration fee is $10.00 and anyone needing scholarship money to cover their registration fee should see our Treasurer, Karen Jacobs.

PW Country Crossroads Bazaar:

Fall is approaching fast which means our Bazaar is just around the corner. We hope many are working on projects to sell at the Bazaar scheduled for Saturday, November 7.

Our next regular meeting will be on Thursday, September 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the church library. All ladies of our church are welcome to attend.

Respectfully,
Naydene Ames, Secretary

From the Property Committee

Our total received for the Special Project (sealing drive/lot) as of August 30 is $4,450.00. Others have spoken about contributing so we may be able to totally pay for the project with this fundraiser ($5,700.00). Sittsy did a great job filling the cracks and sealing.

Syracuse Time & Alarm came and did a test and inspection of the system. Only two minor items need fixing.

The elevator company (ThyssenKrupp) did a quarterly maintenance check. This was well overdue.

Darwin Allen (Haylor, Fryer, Coon) came to Session to go over our renewal policy. This is a yearly policy.

We did not have a successful clean-up on August 8. We have left a chart in Fellowship Hall showing the jobs that need to be accomplished. If you have time and are so inclined, please see one of the Property Committee about coming to work (at your earliest convenience).

Respectfully Submitted

Sylvia McKinnon

THE END OF THE "SUMMER" MUSINGS

By: Pathrik L. Olsson
(A.K.A Mr. Bonnie)

The summer draws to a close, the weeds are winning and, of course, the musings continue...

Recently as I was watching the latest Super Hero movie I began to wonder; what kind of Super Hero would Jesus be if His story were written today? ...as the first lash of the whip approaches our hero He breaks His bonds, reaches out, grabs the whip and with a flick of His wrist rips it out of the guard's grasp and sends the handle flying back to the assailant where it renders him unconscious. Jesus then stands firm and in one smooth action slings His halo, which had appeared above his head, into the crowd where it incapacitates the rest of his antagonizers. The halo smoothly returns to His hand. Nodding to the onlookers, He places the halo on His head where it glows with the light of heaven and Jesus rises up and soars off to do battle with the oppressors of the world... I think I prefer the message of the original story.

The second topic this time is Communion. During our latest Communion Service, I was asked why I did not partake. This started me on a quest. Never being one to follow the crowd I did not and still don't think it is right to partake in a sacred rite without knowing what it means to me.

Communion was never a part of my religious upbringing. So in order to understand it I had to start at the beginning. On Google. I read the appropriate Bible verses and several internet posts and this is the result of my research and consequent musing.

I would like to start with the one post that stood out. It was a gentleman recounting that there are occasions that he does not partake in Communion because he does not feel worthy due to having sinned during the week. This for me did not seem right. I do not think Communion is about "being" worthy I think it is about "becoming" worthy. That is to say, since Jesus is the example of perfection and we strive all of our lives to be more like Him, it is during those times that we do sin that we should partake in Communion to reaffirm our commitment to be like Him. In the partaking of Communion, we take in the essence of Jesus to strengthen ourselves against sin and to aid us in becoming more like Him.

With this newfound understanding in my heart and soul, I suspect our next Communion Sunday will be very different for me.
